

Information for photos on Australian Entomological Society - 43rd AGM & Scientific Conference and Australasian Arachnological Society - 2012 Conference.

No.	Species Name	Common name	Location	Date	Distribution	Comments	Photographer
3	Rainbowia sp.	spider mite	Montagu Bay Tas.	Nov 2011		On Acacia dealbata . Adult erythraeid mites are predatory on small inverts and eggs, larvae are often parasitic on invertebrates (e.g. certain species of Rainbowia are parasitic on psyllids)	J. Davies
4	Myrmecia forficata	inchman	Austins Ferry, Tasmania	10 January 2009()	south-eastern Australia	feeding on a flowering Corymbia ficifolia ,	JJ Harrison (CC-BY-SA 3.0)
5	Paropsisterna sp.	leaf beetle	On Eucalyptus gunii , Vale of Belvoir, Tasmania.	March 2010	Tasmania	Undescribed Tasmanian species which has recently invaded Ireland.	D. de Little
6	New Tasmanian species of Tingidae and Miridae	lace bugs and plant bugs	Seventeen Mile Plain, Tasmania	March 2010	Tasmania		C. Symonds
7	Tettigarcta tomentosa	Tasmanian hairy cicada	Vale of Belvoir, Tasmania	March 2010	Tasmania	Small relictual (mostly extinct) family of primitive silent cicadas, containing a single genus Tettigarcta with two extant species, one in southern Australia (Tettigarcta crinita), and the other in Tasmania (Tettigarcta tomentosa).	C. Symonds
8	Xanthagrion erythoneurum	red & blue Damsel	Tea Tree, Tasmania	December 2008	Australia, NZ, Fiji, New Caledonia, widespread	Near farm dam	JJ Harrison (CC-BY-SA 3.0)
9	Forficula auricularia	European earwig	Tasmania		Exotic species	Female brooding eggs	S. Quarrel
10	Melangyna sp.	hoverfly	Lenah Valley Tas.	Dec 2009		Visiting hedge mustard (Sysymbrium officinale). . Adults feed on nectar and pollen and are important	J. Davies

Photo captions – conference website

No.	Species Name	Common name	Location	Date	Distribution	Comments	Photographer
						pollinators, larvae are predators of soft bodied insects (e.g. aphids)
11	Opiliones	harvestman	Vale of Belvoir, Tasmania	March 2011			R. Raven
12	Acripeza reticulata	mountain katydid	Central Plateau, Tasmania	March 2009	Eastern Australia	Usually found at high to moderate elevations. This is a female exhibiting the striking defence posture and warning colours of the species.	Tim Parker 3 09
13			Vale of Belvoir, Tasmania	March 2010		Ruth Mollison collecting Trichoptera (caddis flies) in the natural semi-alpine grass-land of the Vale of Belvoir.	C. Symonds
14	Dirce aesiodora	pencil pine moth	Pine Lake, Tasmania	Jan. 2011	Northern Central Plateau, as far west as Cradle Mountain and south to Mt Field in Tasmania	Endemic alpine species. Feeds on Athrotaxis cupressoides (pencil pine) (Cupressaceae) and A. selaginoides (King Billy pine).	A. Throssell
15	Plesanemma altafucata		Mt Wellington, Tasmania	June 2001	Moderately high elevations, Tasmania	Endemic species. Feeds on Eucalyptus spp..	C. Young
16	Oreixenica ptunarra	Ptunarra brown butterfly	Vale of Belvoir, Tasmania	March, 2010.	Tasmania.	Threatened species. Restricted to native grasslands	C. Symonds